Report: A Two day training programme for Non-teaching staff on MS-Office (Word & Excel) has been conducted for the staff of Establishment section.

The below are the objectives of the training program,

Objectives of Training:

- ❖ MS Word hands on learning
- ❖ Learn to use formulas and functions
- ❖ Create and modify charts
- ❖ Convert, sort, filter and manage lists
- ❖ Learn to work with draw tables
- ❖ Learn to use conditional formatting and styles.

The two day training programme is designed to give hands on experience on letter drafting, note preparation on word and table creation, chart insertion and working with formulas in excel. The training was conducted rigorously with four sessions covering the basic concepts of MS Office. Fifteen non teaching staff working as junior assistants, senior assistants and others benefited from the training programme. All the four sessions were handled by Dr M Ussenaiah, Assistant Professor, Department of Computer Science, Vikrama Simhapuri University, Nellore.

No. of participants	10
Technician	Sri. K Kiran, Technician, ThermoScientifics
Report	Thermo Scientific NanoDrop™ 2000/2000c Spectrophotometers measure 0.5- 2 ul samples with high accuracy and reproducibility. The sample retention system employs surface tension to hold the sample in place between two optical fibers. This enables the measurement of very highly concentrated samples without the need for dilutions. Using this technology, the full spectrum (190 – 840 nm) NanoDrop 2000/2000c Spectrophotometers have the capability to measure sample concentration up to 200 times more concentrated than samples measured using the standardcuvette. Applications UV-VIS spectrophotometry is easy for micro-volume samples using NanoDrop 2000 spectrophotometers. The NanoDrop 2000 is ideally suited for measuring: Nucleic acid concentration and purityof nucleic acid samples A detailed demo how to use the Nanodrop instrument was conducted in the lab. Dr S B Sainath along with the faculty of Biotechnology, Microbiology and the lab assistants have participated in programme.

- Autoscale all samples - sets the upper limit of the Y-axis to the highest absorbance value for all of the measured samples and the lower limit to the lowest absorbance value for all of the samples together.
- Full Display all samples - sets the X and Y axis to display the full spectra for all samples.
- Set Scale - allows manual setting of minimum and maximum values for the Y axis.

Workshop on Office Etiquettes and Communication Skills

Date: 15/12/2017

Venue: Sir C V Raman Seminar Hall

No. of participants: 60

A Report on Training Programme on Office Etiquettes and Communication Skills for Teaching & Non-teaching

We often spend 8 to 10 hours a day in an office environment. This means that good office manners are incredibly important.

In order to create a professional, mutually respectful atmosphere and to improve communication, the training on office etiquettes and communication skills is planned to create and enhance the participant's ability to handle a number of professional and social situations.

Sixty participants from both the teaching and non-teaching participated in the office etiquettes and communication skills workshop.

Activities undertaken include:

1. Dos and Don'ts of office etiquettes. Socially acceptable and unacceptable behaviors at office.
2. Office discipline
3. Sexual harassment, bullying and language usage
4. Restraining Unethical conduct and behavior
5. Interpersonal relationships and how to enhance them
6. Empathy, tolerance and compassion

Workplace etiquette helps cohesion and cooperativeness among coworkers to feel comfortable around each other and to establish a healthy office environment. Dr R Prabhakar, Asst Professor, Department of English acted as the trainer. The Deputy Registrar and the Principal of VSU College also participated in the workshop.
