Brief report of the topic

One day workshop on Entrepreneurship through aquaculture was held on 06-07-2022 organized by Centre for Innovation, Incubation and Entrepreneurship at VikramaSimhapuri University, Nellore. Dr.Ch Vijaya, the coordinator, Centre for Innovation, Incubation and Entrepreneurship highlited the objectives of the workshops and introduced B. of the speaker, Dr. Kishori, Department Biotechnology, Sri PadmavathaiMahilaViswavidyalayam, Tirupatito the audience. Dr. Kishori said that the aquaculture is moved from traditional source of income into a business sector now a days and is heavily reliant on technology. Fisheries and aquaculture is acting as a supplementary subsistence activity to viable and sustainable economic activity in most of the States including Andhra Pradesh. In addition to fisheries, hatchery industry including shellfish culture is gaining importance as an attractive investment destination and a lucrative business activity. With the changing consumption pattern, emerging market forces and recent technological developments, the sector has assumed increased importance with farmers and other stakeholders in the country. Fish and shellfish including edible crustaceans consumption has recently increased worldwide with high demands in the developing countries. Fish is anticipated to be the most major source of protein in the human diet on a global scale, and it is believed that more than 30% of all fish consumed by humans comes from aquaculture.

Aquaculture sector is gaining popularity not only because of high protein food source but also as a revenue spinning industry. Therefore, DrKishori suggested the students to develop skills in aquaculture which consequently turns the youth into future entrepreneurs. Further, DrKishori said, there is a wide scope of research in aquaculture. For example, so far the seed to seed technology in hatchery industry is still at its infancy as compared to fisheries. Therefore, students can choose such areas and develop technology to promote seed to seed technology in crustacean aquaculture industry.

During the workshop a total of 48 students participate and the participants were provided with a manual of the workshop and certificate. Dr Ch. Vijaya expressed vote of thanks to the speaker.
