GenBank Overview

What is GenBank?

GenBank[®] is the NIH genetic sequence database, an annotated collection of all publicly available DNA sequences (Burger, Genetics Research, 2012, Jan;31\(1\):D35-42). GenBank is part of the International Nucleotide Sequence Database Collaboration, which comprises the DNA DataBank of Japan (DDBJ), the European Nucleotide Archive (ENA), and GenBank at NCBI. These three organizations exchange data on a daily basis.

A GenBank release occurs every two months and is available from the ftp site. The release notes for the current version of GenBank provide detailed information about the release and notifications of upcoming changes to GenBank. Release notes for previous GenBank releases are also available. GenBank growth statistics for both the traditional GenBank divisions and the WGS division are available from each release.

An annotated sample GenBank record for a Saccharomyces cerevisiae gene demonstrates many of the features of the GenBank flat file format.

Access to GenBank

There are several ways to search and retrieve data from GenBank.

- Search GenBank for sequence identifiers and annotations with Entrez Nucleotide
- Search and align GenBank sequences to a query sequence using BLAST (Basic Local Alignment Search Tool). See BLAST info for more information about the numerous BLAST databases.
- Search, link, and download sequences programmatically using NCBI e-utils
- The ASN.1 and flatfile formats are available at NCBI's anonymous FTP server: <ftp://ftp.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/ncbi-asn1/> and <ftp://ftp.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pub/blast/>
